The 1940 Echo

PUBLISHED BY THE
ASSOCIATED STUDENT BODY OF
EDMONDS HIGH SCHOOL
EDMONDS, WASHINGTON

EDITOR Shelleah Williams

BUSINESS MANAGER Allen Solemslie

We, of the Edmonds High School, dedicate this issue of the 1940 Echo to Miss Dorothy Allison in gratitude for her unceasing efforts to raise the standard of our Journalism department, her tactful guidance, her tolerance and understanding.

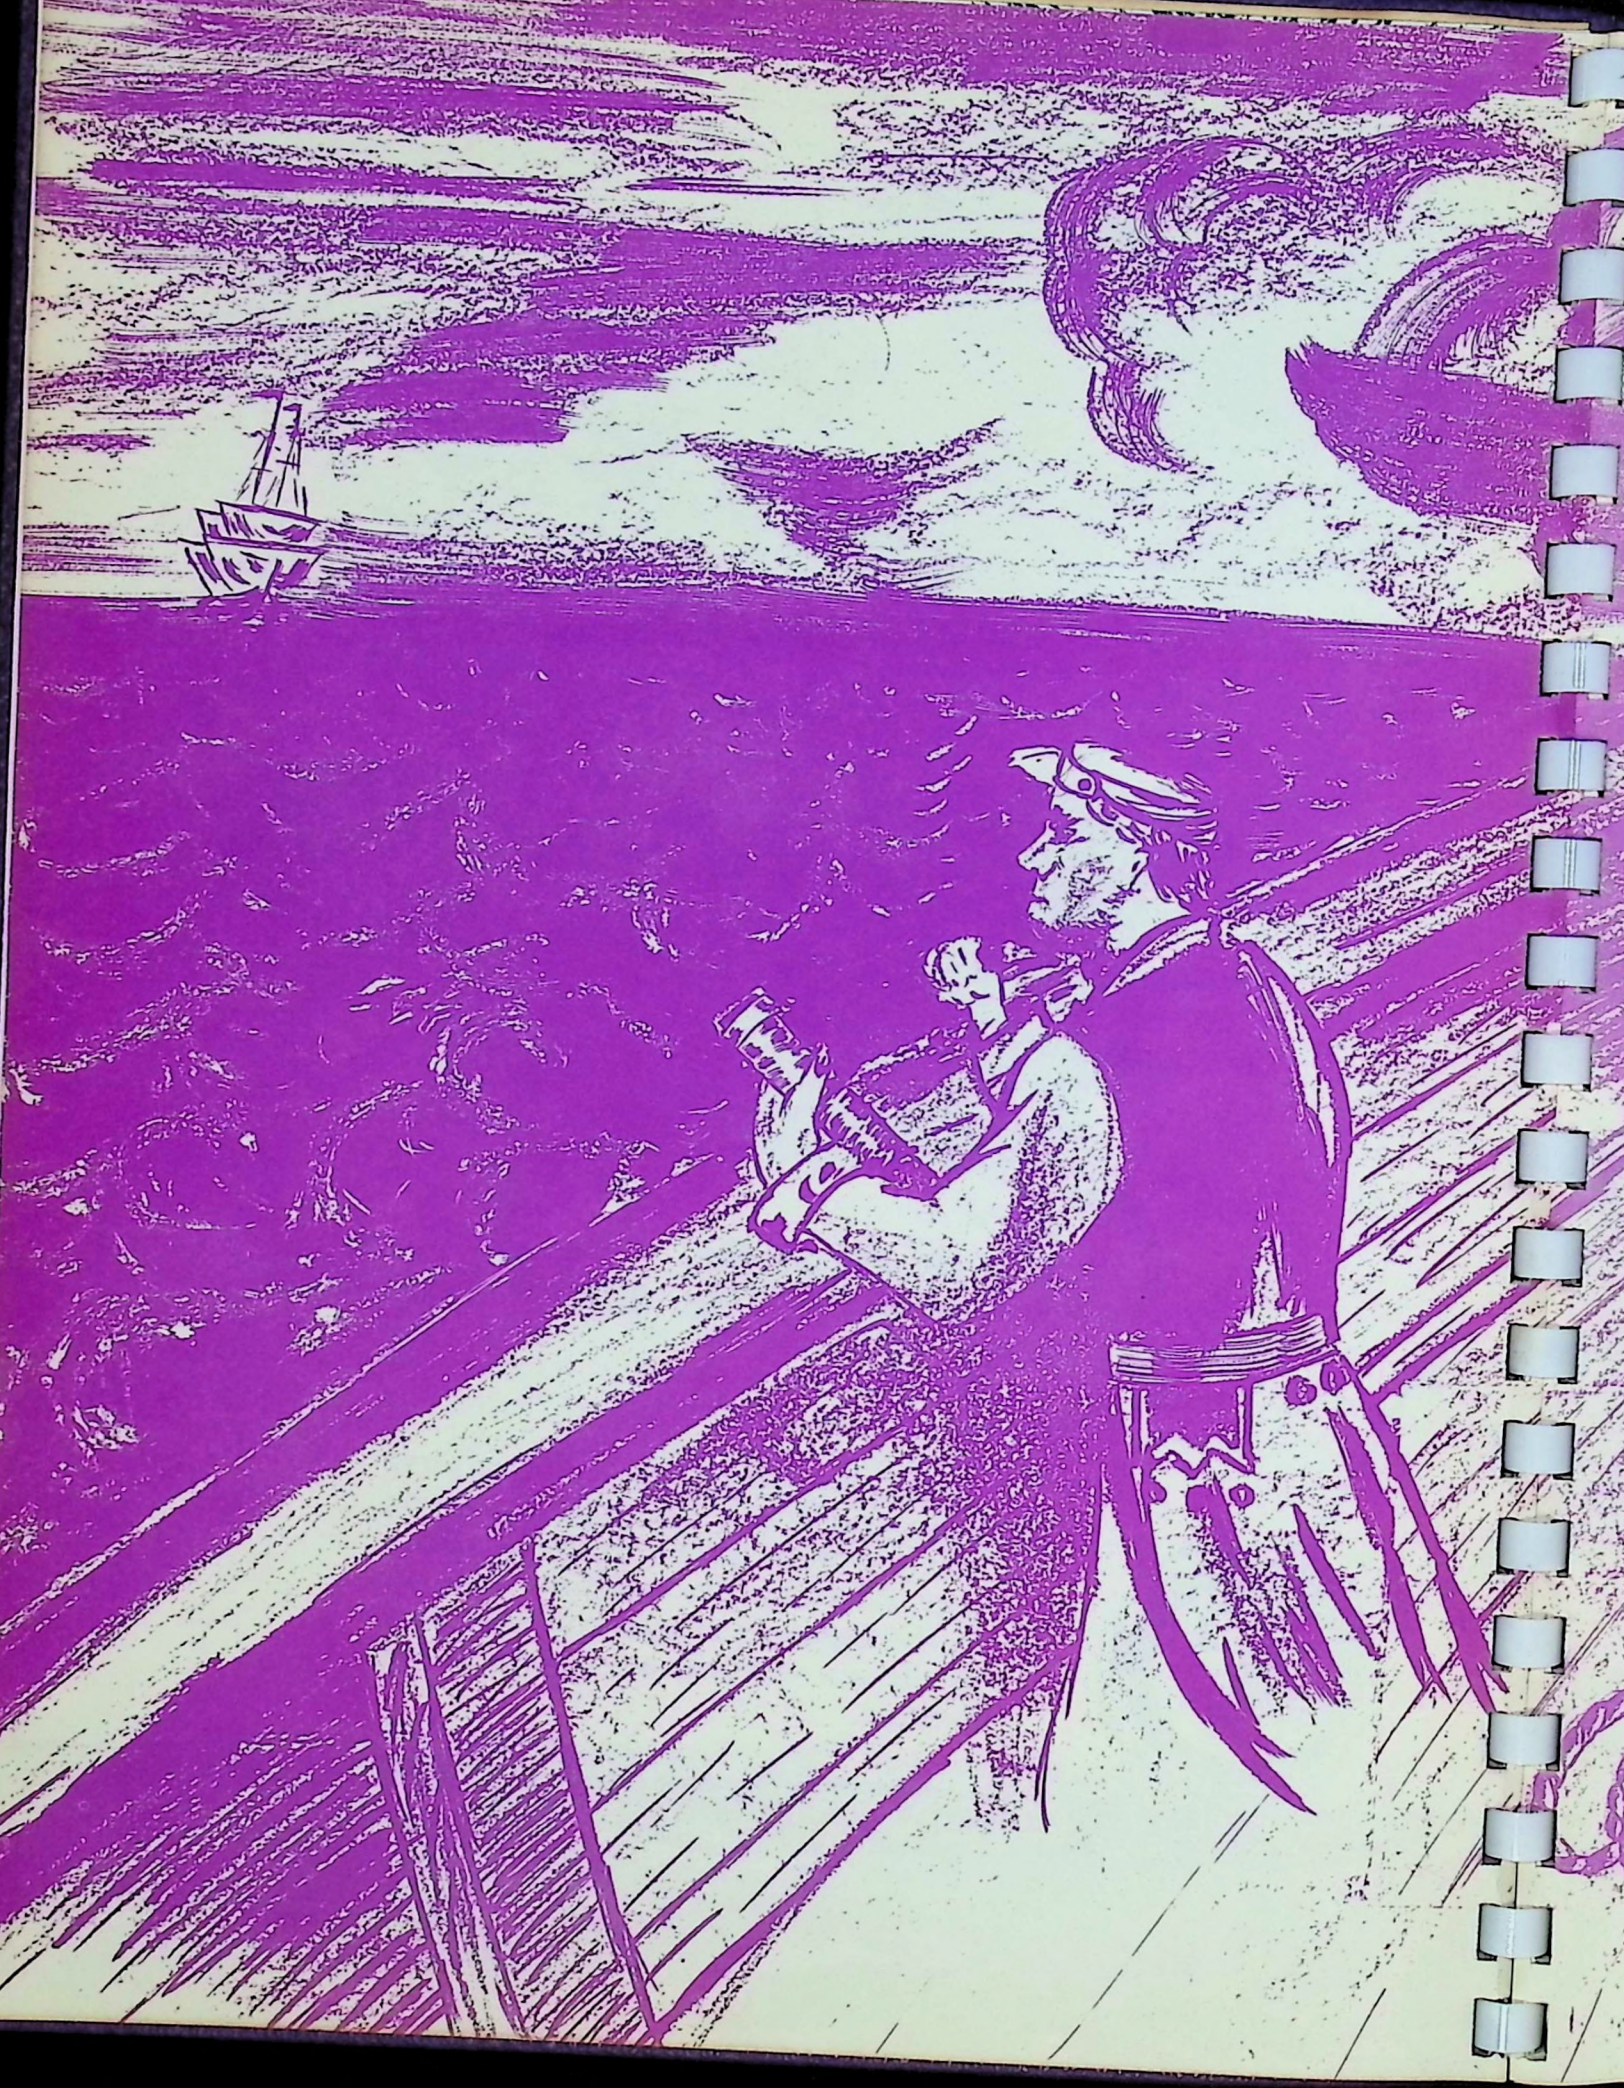

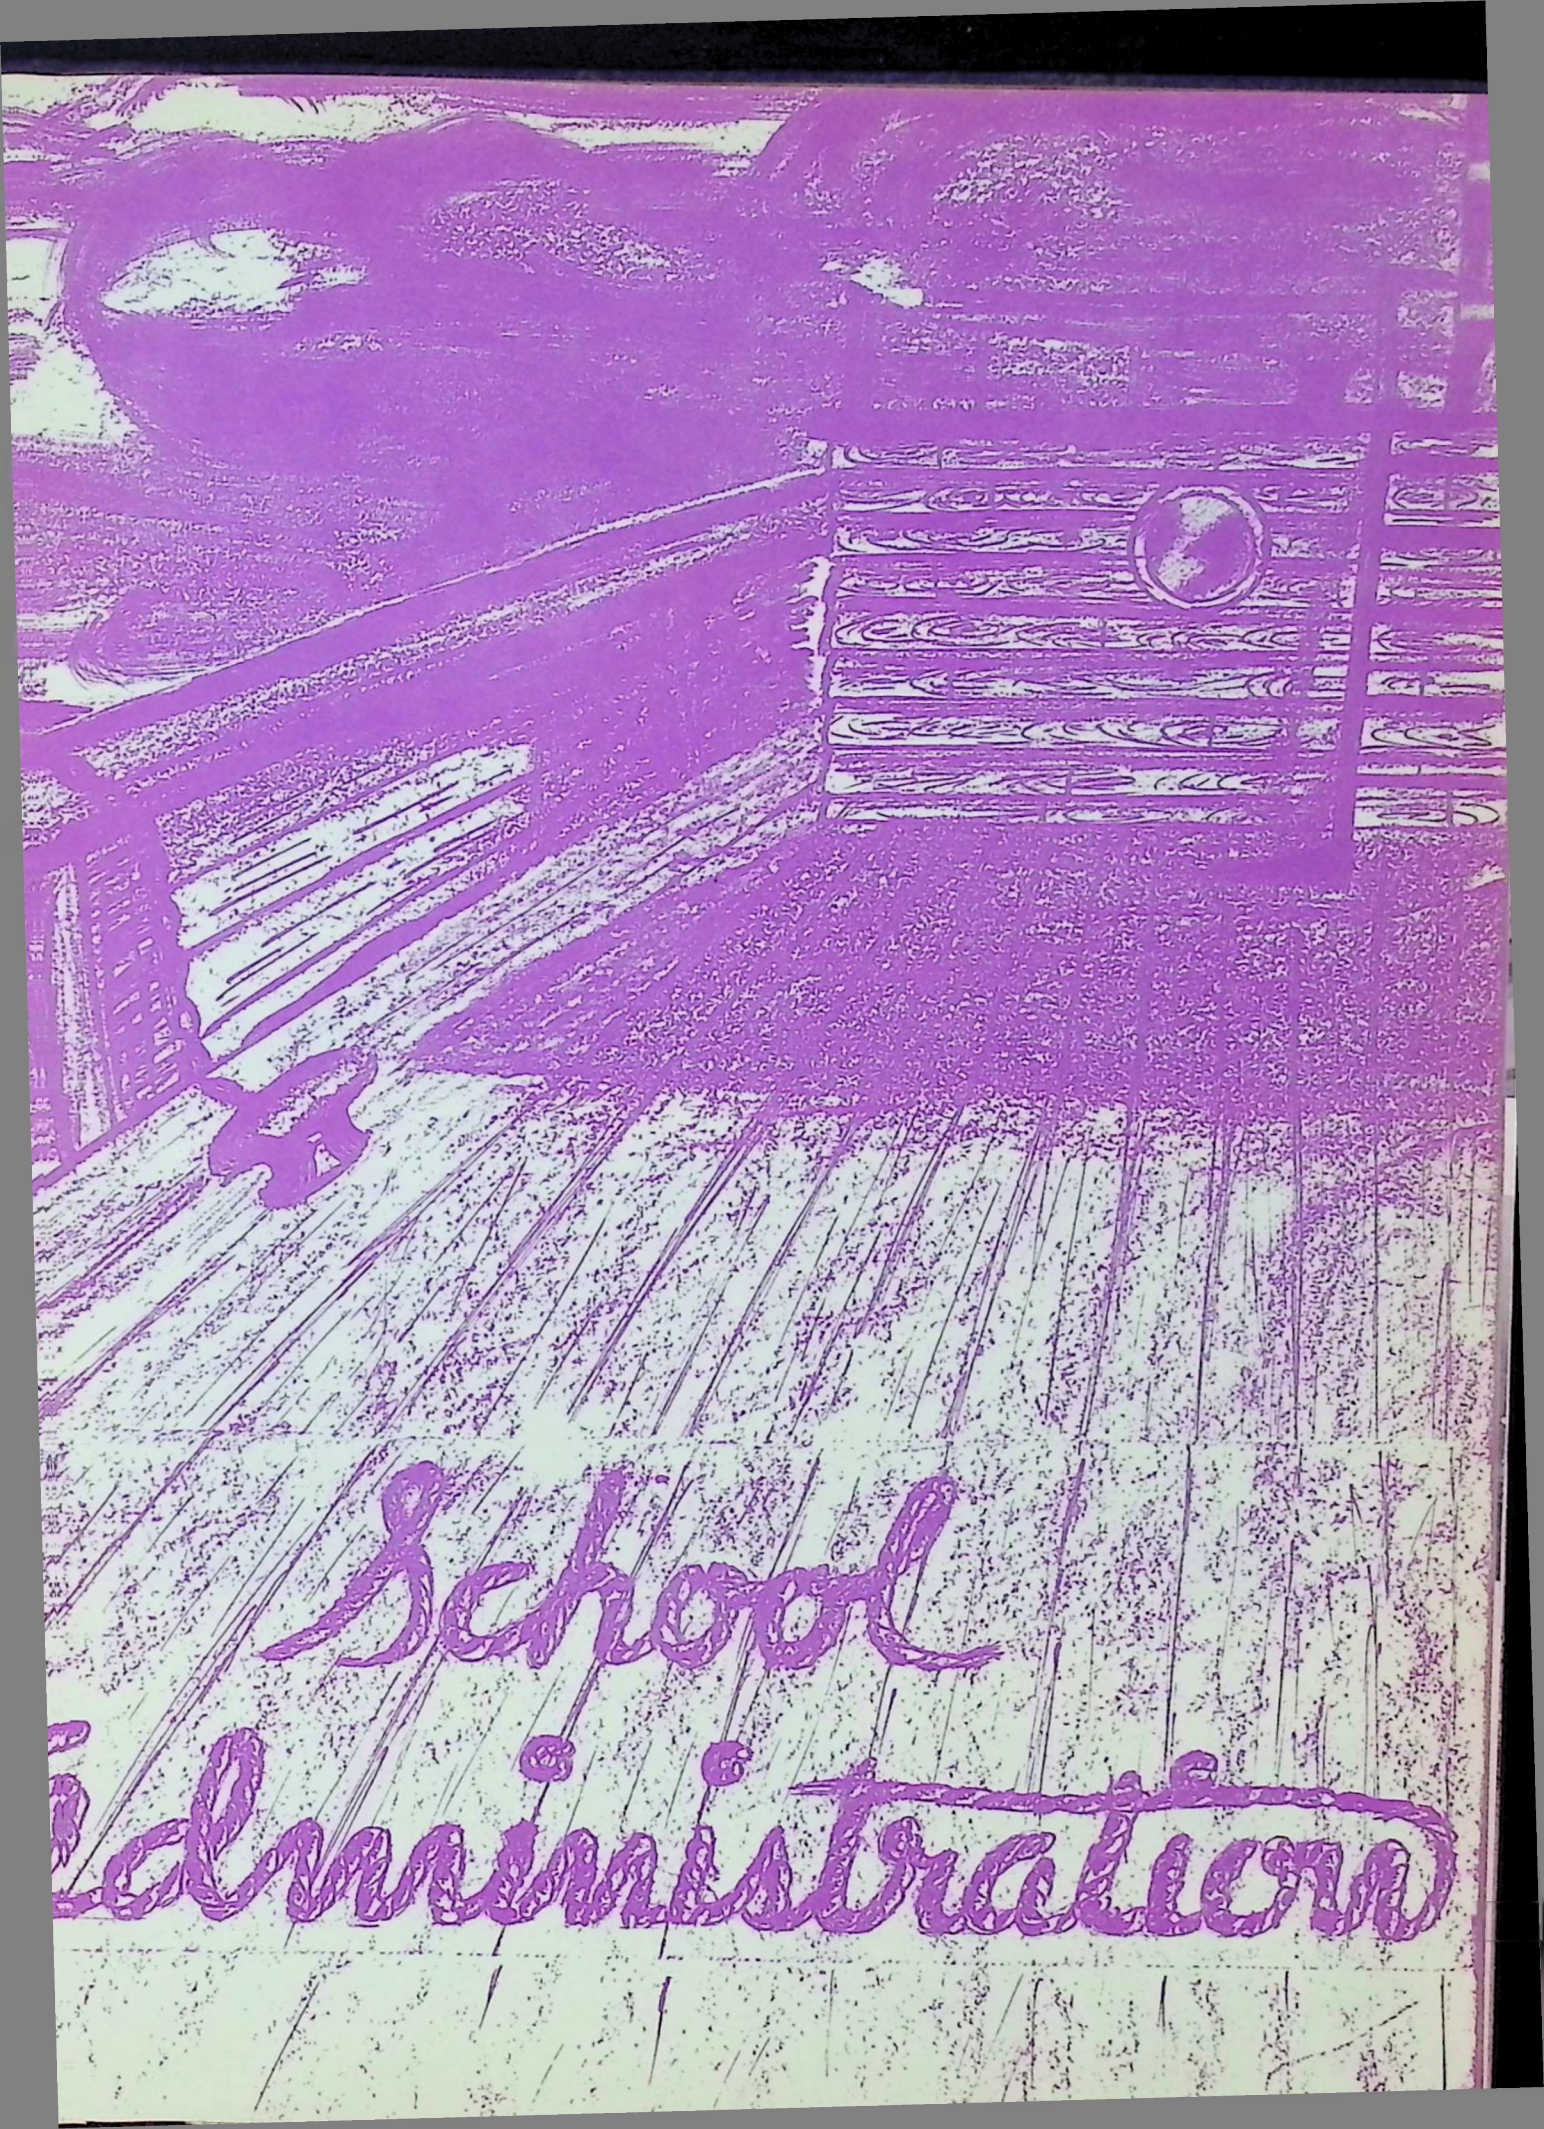

Clipper Ships

May these swift ships of the sea serve to remind you of the quickly passing year you spent on the voyage of education. And may they turn your thoughts to the beauty, romance and adventure of the sea which are a part of our heritage.

STUDENT COUNCIL

In accordance with our new constitution, a Student Council has been formed. Its duties have been to try any student charged with misconduct or breaking the rules in our school. The decisions of the Council this year have proved satisfactory to all concerned.

BOARD OF CONTROL

The Board of Control is the legislative body of our school. This year's Board of Control has established the new Constitution which was voted upon and accepted by the Student Body last year. They have also partially completed the Field Lights project. The Board of Control has voted upon new amendments and presented them to the Student Body, passed laws governing the students and made up the financial budget for the coming year 1940-41. The faculty advisers for this year have been Mr. Paul McGibbon and Mr. S. C. Caudill, business manager.

The Board of Control is made up of representatives of every class and officers elected by the Student Body.

AD CLUB

The Ad Club recently organized became one of the outstanding service groups of the school. This Club has not only kept us informed of the coming events during the year, but has also aided Mr. Caudill in the sale of tickets at all school functions.

STUDENT PATROL

The Student Patrol has maintained order and peace upon the premises of this school. Under the leadership of George Stockamp and guidance of Mr. Roy Ballou, the patrol has successfully undertaken the control of the study halls, maintenance of cleanliness in the cafeteria and halls, and keeping order at all school functions.

The Patrol consists of forty boys and ten girls, divided into five groups of ten patrolmen each with a lieutenant at the head of every patrol. The members are elected by the Student Body. The lieutenants are selected from the group of patrolmen according to their ability, while the chief is chosen by the Student Body President with the assistance of the adviser.

This group was started last year to assist in the care of the cars around the school grounds and was worked into the new constitution to become a regular division of student government.

CLASH

SENIORS

FIRST SEMESTER: Jim Specht, President; John Johnson, Vice President; Herbert Meyring, Secretary-Treasurer.

SECOND SEMESTER: Bill Birt, President; Earl Jones, Vice President; Lee Rodgers, Secretary-Treasurer (not shown).

September 18—

New classes, new activities and new acquaintances within a brand new building beckoned ninety-one enthusiastic seniors to a full year of successful sailing in scholastic, dramatic, and athletic channels.

November 22—

A roller skating party at the "Roller Bowl" began the senior activities.

January—

found the debating team sailing home from Beltingham with Joe Harris, Barbara Atkinson, and Bertha Schroeder at the helm with the ratings of a superior, excellent, and good respectively.

February 16—

is recalled by the seniors as the date of their production, "Remember the Day," a three-act play, remembered by the audience as a highly successful dramatic performance.

February 23—

An oration entitled "What Is Americanism?" won Norma Jean Wray, a senior public speaking student, second place rating in the county Americanism contest sponsored by the Legion Auxiliary.

March 16—

With flour, sugar, shortening, and salt, the seniors increased their treasury by $24.00. In other words—it was Senior Bake Sale, headed by Lois Hagan, that was responsible for the class's sudden wealth.

April 27—

The Senior Ball, a formal affair, with Gardens as the theme was a great success amid showers of spirited notes from Chuck Riesdorf's orchestra.

May 1—

A big day for one senior honor student, active corresponding secretary of the Snohomish County Red Cross, Barbara Atkinson, who left for a glorious three weeks stay in Washington, D. C., where the annual Red Cross convention was held this year.

May—

To be sure the seniors didn't skip their traditional skip day. A trip to Lake Wilderness and then to the school at Buckley and then back to Wilderness.

June 2—

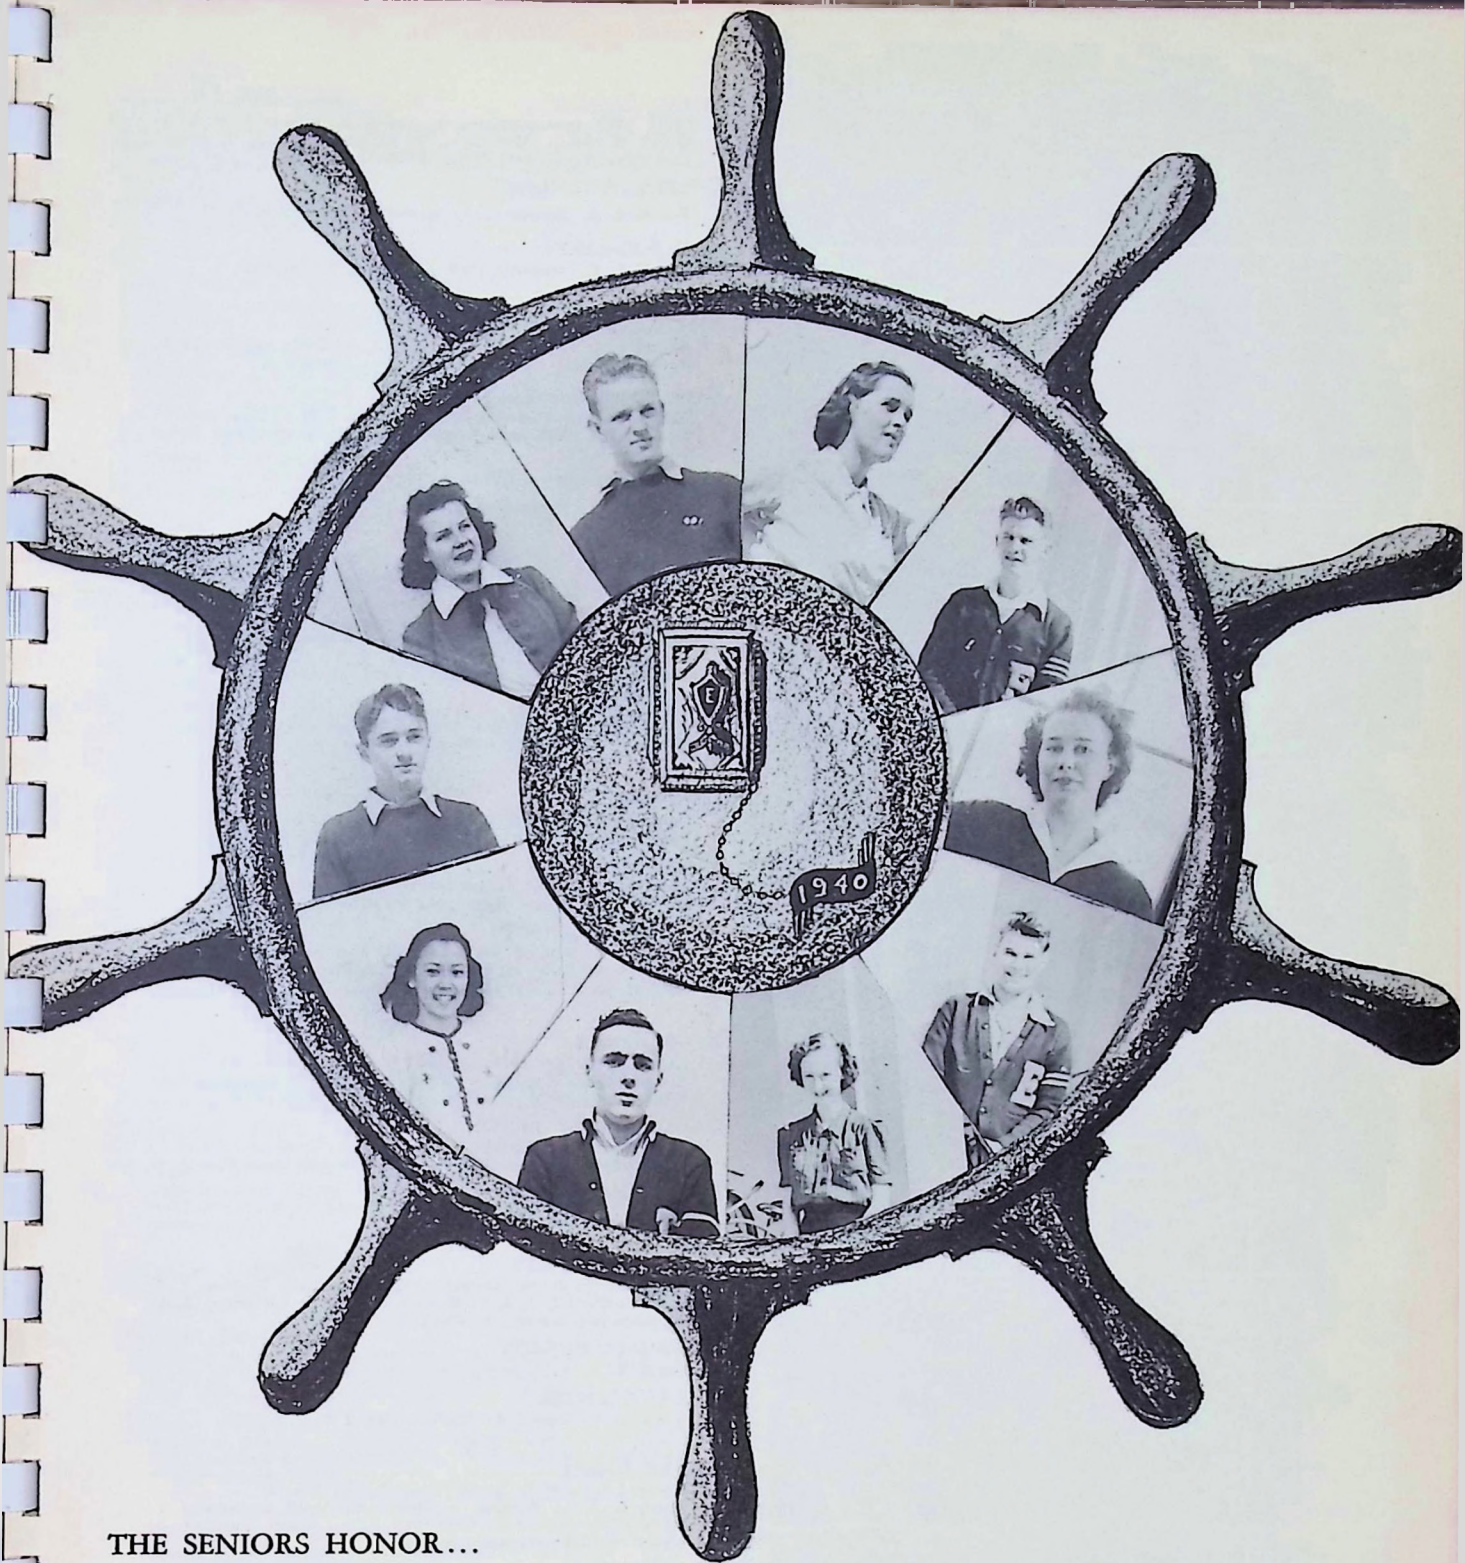

A lovely Baccalaureate service was held for all seniors.

June 7—

The members of the class of nineteen forty experienced their final thrill at Edmonds High when they were presented with their diplomas this evening of all evenings—Graduation.

September '39 to June '40—

In reporting the senior affairs as they occurred we must not fail to mention the fact that eight girls in the class were Letterwomen and sixteen boys were Lettermen. The class boasts fifteen Torch members nine of whom are Torch bearers, while sixteen seniors made Quill and Scroll.

Under the guidance of President Ryoko Mafune, Vice President Jessie Carol Hendron, Secretary Nona Yost, and Financial Secretary Anita Hammond, the club thrived and grew in popularity. Meetings were made interesting by special vocational speakers, round table talks, and displays of school talent.

The Christmas party, annually sponsored by the Boys' and Girls' clubs, was given in the new gym. Foodstuffs were the admission fee, after which they served another purpose in the homes where they were distributed. A scavenger hunt began the evening which was concluded by a dance.

Sponsored solely by the Girls' Club, the Tolo dance was held in the early spring. Formal clothes were in order and the decorations consisted of green and white streamers with shamrocks bordering the walls.

BOYS' CLUB

MR. PAUL MCGIBBON
Boys' Adviser

BILL ELDRIDGE
Secretary-Treasurer

PHIL ROE
Vice President

GEORGE STOCKAMP
President

Headed this year by George Stockamp, the Boys' Club sponsored the activities they usually list on the year's calendar and added several new ones.

A new activity this year was the guidance group headed by Arland Smith, and composed of Joe Harris, Eric Carlson and Bill Eldridge. These boys during the first semester lead discussions on school problems in freshman classes. The purpose of this committee was to acquaint the new boys with the regulations, the activities, and the curriculum of the school.

Herb Meyring headed the committee which made arrangements for speakers and presented for the monthly club meetings some of the best men in various vocational fields.

Phil Roe and Harry Kretzler acted as co-chairmen for the annual Dad's night when Dean Newhouse of the University of Washington spoke to the dads and sons.

THE ECHO

Able assistants are: TOP ROW: Frances Roberts, Donna Belle Hackett, Pauline Horning, Earl Morris, LaVerne DeVoy, Virginia Ryan, Norma Jean Wray, Kenneth Fletcher.

Allen Solemalle, business manager.

Tearing down boards from huge glass windows, carrying books, broken furniture, even broken statuary to the store room, the Echo staff finally moved into its new headquarters, Me-Shak.

Allen had his "ad-chasers" organized early in the year to start the business end of the publication.

Fortunate we were to have Janet and Anita working on the art staff. Editor Shelleah Williams' group also included some "mighty spry" section editors and assistants.

An ambitious group of twenty-three girls worked hard and steadily this year to make a sport program for all the girls in the school. This group of twenty-three was the Letterwomen's Club. Its officers for this year are Teiko Mafune, president; Ruth Boyle, vice president, and Agnes Anderson, secretary-treasurer.

Managers of the various sports were: Mercedes Smart, who took charge of the fall sport, speedball; LaVerne DeVoy, who headed the volleyball group; Ruth Boyle, in charge of basketball; Agnes Anderson, who managed tennis and ping pong; Dorothea Leichty, who took charge of the turnouts for track and baseball, and Ryoko Mafune, who headed the minor sports. Carol Foard and Marilyn Brine were in charge of the hiking activity this year.

The club's chief activities for the year were the two initiations, one in February which was held jointly with the Lettermen, and a second one in June. Earlier in the school year the Letterwomen and Lettermen sponsored the Homecoming Dance.

LETTERMEN

With Johnny Johnson as president, Gordon Magill as vice president, and Bob Cosman as secretary, the Lettermen had a very progressive year. More interest was taken in the Lettermen during this year, than at any previous time.

Starting the year with the dance, which was sponsored jointly with the Letterwomen, the Lettermen entertained the alumni at Homecoming. The dance was held at the Alderwood gymnasium.

In February they held the first initiation in some years when twenty new members were taken in. After initiation a joint banquet was held with the Letterwomen.

Membership may be had by earning a letter in football, track, basketball, tennis, or baseball, or as a manager. Members are taken in at the end of the basketball season, drawing from those who made their letter the last spring as well as those from the football and basketball teams of the current year. The boys were advised by athletic coach, Mr. Warren Bieber.

SECOND ROW: Helen Carey, LaVerne DeVoy, Barbara Atkinson, Anita Hammond, Gloria Brown, Lois Hagan, Marie Arnold, Irene Thompson.

TORCH

Under the supervision of the new Torch adviser, Mrs. Hallie B. Anderson, the honor society has undertaken more duties than before and has widened its interests in other school activities. Those who received Torchbearer pins were: Herb Meyring, Virginia Jennings, Pauline Horning, Shelleah Williams, Bertha Schroeder, Jack Bartlett, Norma Jean Wray, Helen Carey and Barbara Atkinson.

One of the most important events was the writing of a Torch constitution which Virginia Jennings constructed.

A formal ritual, heretofore non-existent in the Torch, was written this year by Doris Ruth Davis for all future initiations.

Under the direction of Jane Orner and Carol Foard Torch members ushered at the main events of the year, including junior and senior plays, vodcast, and commencement.

Twinkling stars radiating from a huge central star carried out the theme of stardust at the annual Torch dance, April 12.

Torch officers were Herbert Meyring, president; Virginia Jennings, vice-president; and Jane Orner, secretary.

In April the organization entertained at an assembly according to custom, and in May enjoyed its annual picnic.

QUILL AND SCROLL

To start the year, the Homer A. Post chapter initiated ten members. Christmas party came next, with everyone turning out to hear the guest speakers. Election was held to name Irene Thompson, president; Arland Smith as vice-president, and Agnes Anderson to fill the secretary's position. These officers served for the year. Later in the second semester ten more members were initiated following a banquet. Ending the year was the picnic which is an annual affair. Professional and student journalists spoke at several of the business meetings.

Among the speakers heard were Professor Merritt E. Benson of the University of Washington School of Journalism, Wally Reed, editor of the year book at the University, Richard Hicks and Bob Roe, student journalists at the University, and Mr. L. W. Brown, a linotype operator at the Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

With Miss Dorothy Allison as adviser, the club spent a very active year and interest was shown in all contests sponsored by the Quill and Scroll Society. Several people gained recognition from the society for participation in these contests.

THIRD ROW: Valerie Masson, Shirley Dawes, Carol Foard, Janet Nelson, Wanda Goble, Jean Whitlatch, Dorothy Korshaven, Bill Eldridge, Leo Juhola.

HEALTH, STAGE, DEBATE

The girls in the health center, under the supervision of Mrs. Barrett-Scott, soothed many an aching brow, and spent their required hours in the hospital watching over the sick pupils.

Spending the year in innumerable practices, working backstage keeping things running smoothly during plays and generally making themselves useful when there is an assembly, the stage crew have made themselves indispensable. The stage crew also made up all the settings for the plays, even to the making of venetian blinds.

This year's debate team had the question, "How Should We Deal With the Railway Problem in the United States?" The team was composed of Joe Harris, Barbara Atkinson, Harry Gibbons, and Bertha Schroeder. In the fall they, and Coach G. F. Hatch, traveled to Bellingham for the tri-county meet. Ratings for the meet were: Joe, superior; Barbara, excellent; Harry and Bertha, good.

RADIO, YELL, DRAMA

Beside studying radio and closely related subjects, the Radio Club found time to operate the public address system whenever their help was needed. The group also aided in installing lights and other electrical equipment for school functions. Under the sponsorship of D. A. Jacobson the club learned many valuable things.

With Pat O'Halloran as Yell Queen, and Ruth Boyle, Irene Stering, Ethylda Webb, and Virginia Ettrup as staff, organized cheering was heard at all football and basketball games. They exemplified school spirit and aroused it in the student body.

Boasting the fact that theirs is the largest club in the school the Drama Club was very active for the newly-formed group that they were.

DRAMA CLUB

"Hi ynh honey! Where've I seen you before?" Gabby and Janet (Dewey-eyed) Beeson meet between classes to "talk it over"

Most often heard quote from puzzled mothers is "I wonder what they find to do that keeps them so busy at school." Here Irene Thompson helps to give a true picture of the activities that any high school student can engage in. In other words a true picture of our student life.

Supported largely by the purchase of Activity tickets the extra curricular activities prove a boon to students who like to exercise talents not needed in classrooms.

During her school career, Irene, more widely known as Gabby, chose to be active in three main fields, student government, music, and student publications.

Left: As a board of control member, Irene took an active interest in school affairs, being instrumental in introducing the point system amendment to the students.

Below: Home at last! Having been a former Wireless editor herself, Gabby enjoys coming up to Meshak as the staffs relax after deadlines are barely met. Lower right: Surprise—Gabby finds time to attend a class.

STUDENT LIFE

Hours of study and hours of play combine to make up a balanced schedule which encourages Edmonds students to engage in activities which will be instrumental in bringing out latent tastes and talents and aid in developing cooperation, good citizenship and initiative.

Here, students, to graduate must have majored in two subjects, minored in two, and have earned a total of thirty-two credits.

The things that most high school students enjoy more, however, than classes, are the extra-curricular activities. These are divided into five main groups; music, dramatics, club work, student publications and athletics.

Athletics claim the interest of most of the Edmonds students, perhaps because it provides an hour a day of comparative freedom as well as active exercise. Too, the field of athletics is open to anyone who has the necessary talent for sports.

While students are given credits for music work, it is considered to be an activity since playing for various school functions keeps them busy throughout the year. Knowledge of your instrument or beginners' band are the only requirements to join the band. The orchestra members, however, are put on a selective basis, and are chosen by the instructor, Miss Fae Brechner. The inclination for singing is all that's necessary to admit students into the chorus or glee.

These musical groups provide one of the best mediums for self expression in the school.

Dramatics, too, provide an outlet for the students who seek self expression. The junior and senior plays and school vodvil give approximately two hundred pupils an opportunity to display their histrionic ability. They also provide opportunities for stage management, direction and publicity management.

Managed largely by the upper classmen are the student publications. While the annual provides a few openings for freshmen and sophomores, the Wireless is edited entirely by upperclassmen. A popular place is Me-Shak as student journalists meet to get assignments, exchange ideas and to find full scope for their writing ability.

Most numerous are the various clubs which flourish under the stimulus of student interest. The Boys' and Girls' Clubs, which include all boys and girls as members, give all students at least one interest during their school careers.

Clubs are organized because of an apparent need for them. Radio, Photo, Dramatic, and Ad Clubs were organized because they filled a need. Most clubs provide practical training in many fields which aid their members in their school work.

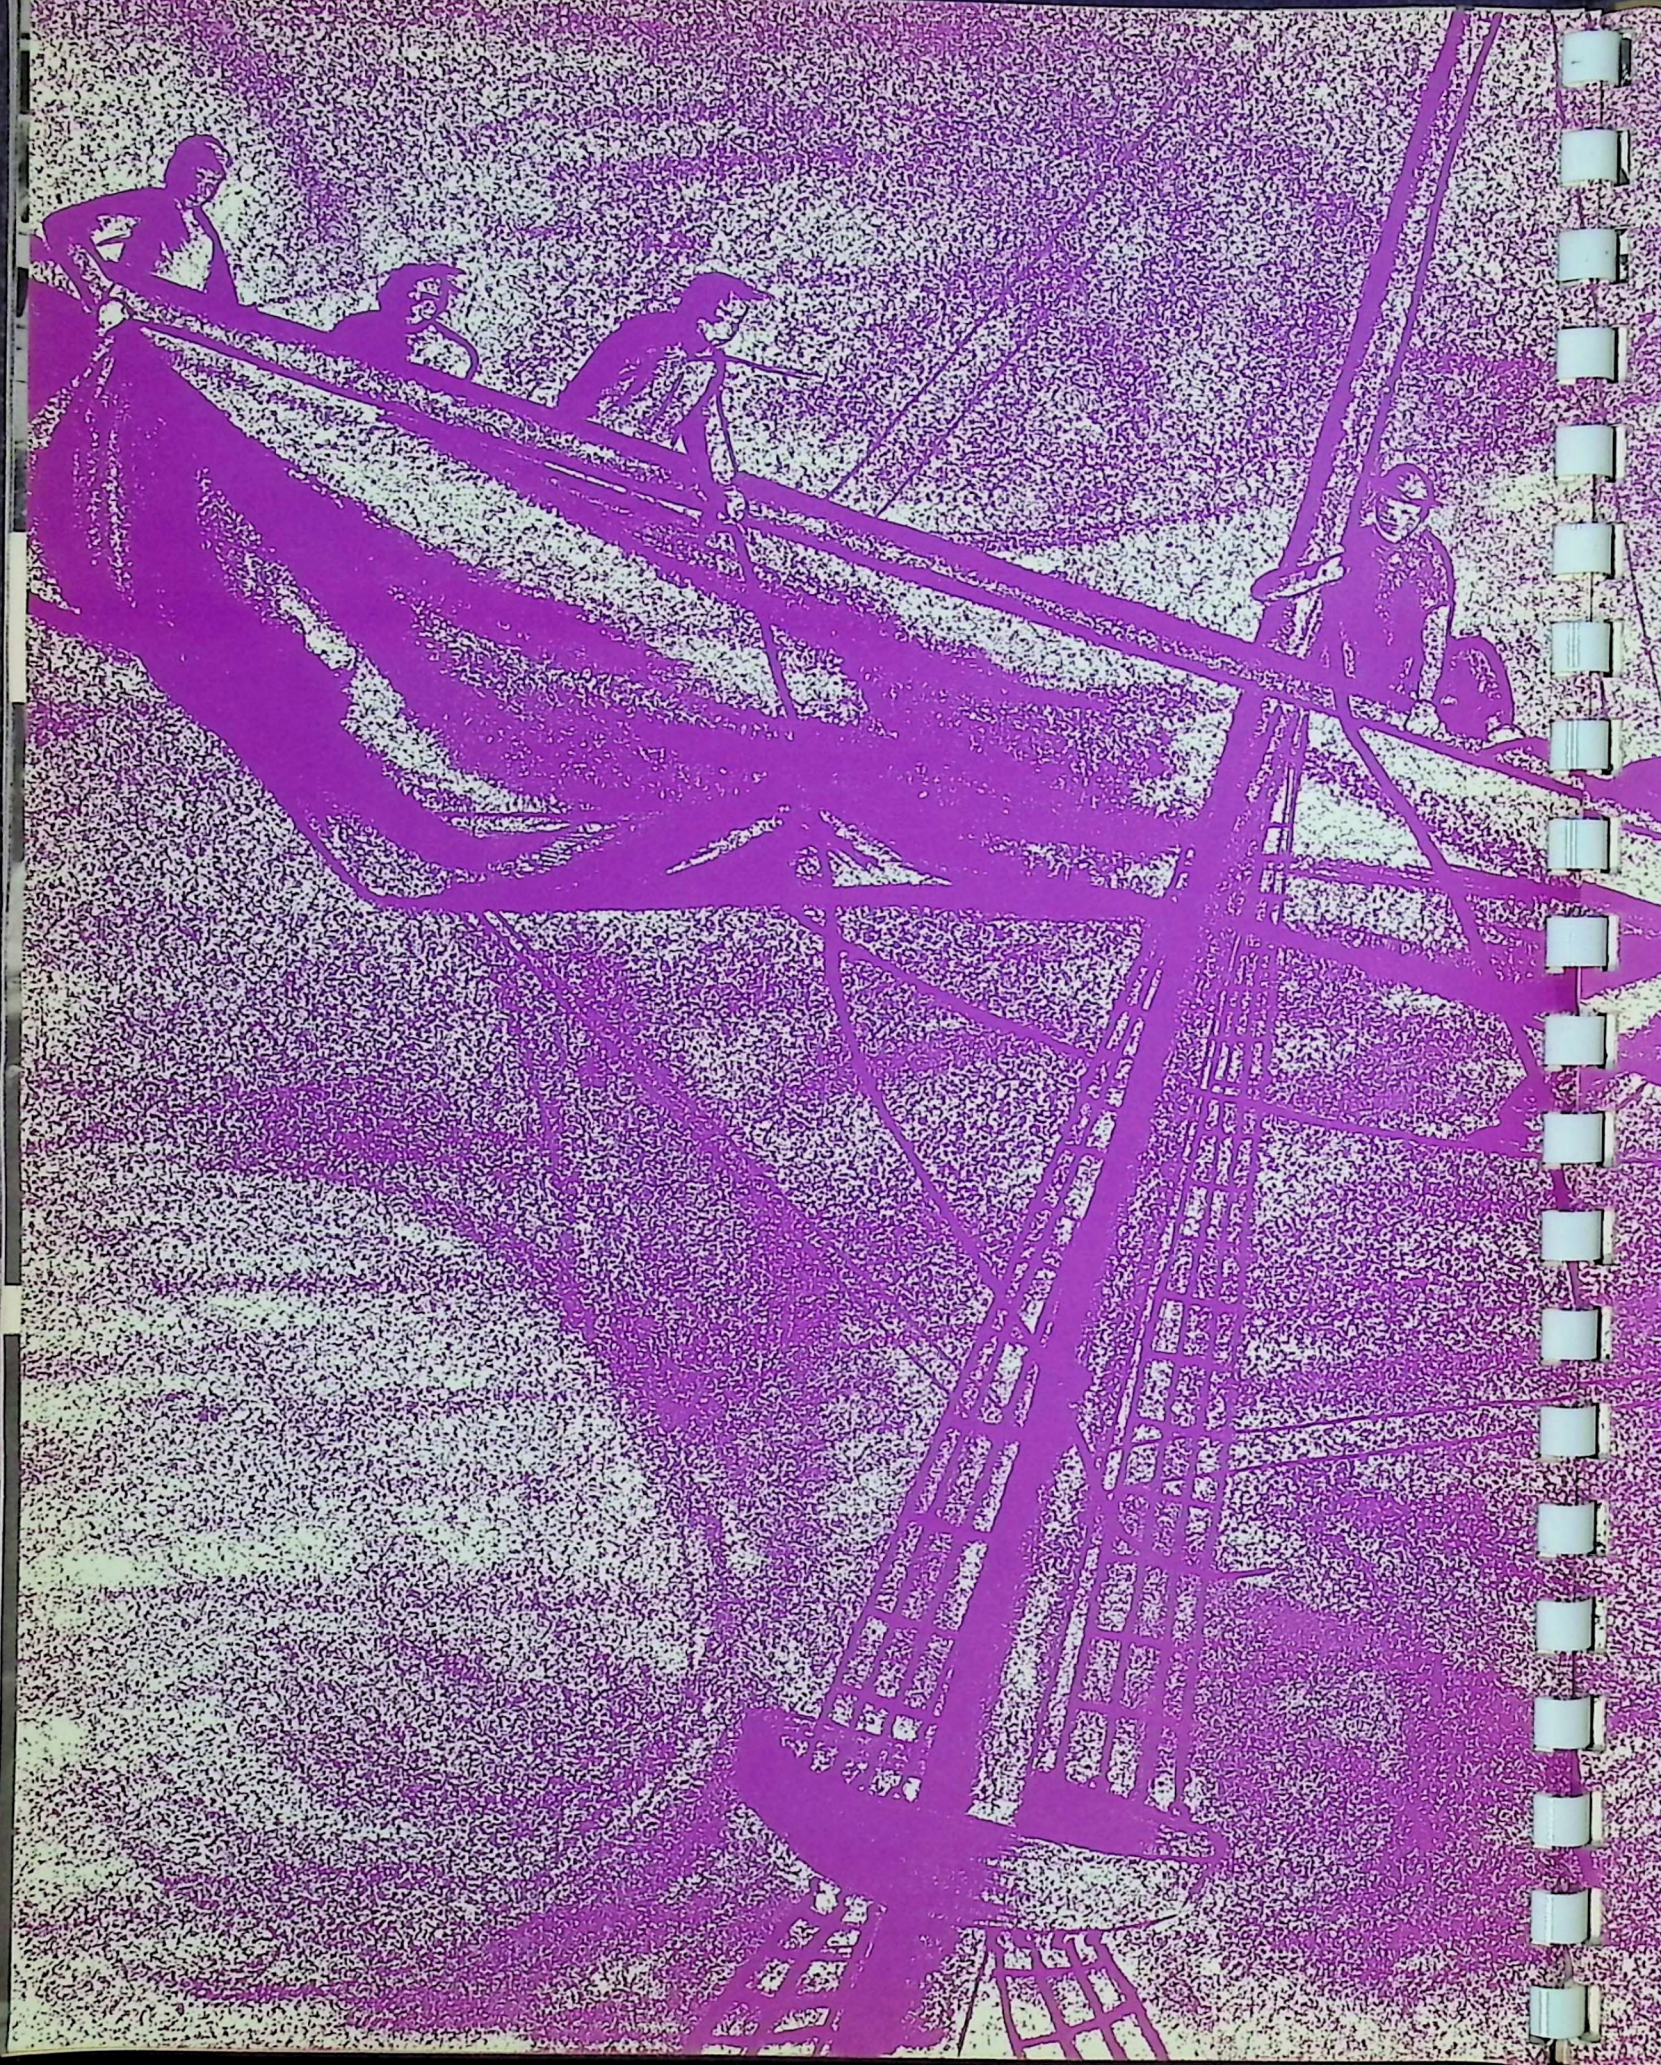

For students who have just entered high school, there are limitless opportunities for extra-curricular activity which will help to make school days more enjoyable as well as helping to lay a firmer foundation for the later life of the citizens of tomorrow.

Irene finds time to practice on her music. A skilled violinist, she finds much enjoyment in the hours she spends playing in the orchestra and string trio.

Below: "Do you think it will look all right?" Irene gets a little help in dressing for the Tolo, an annual Girls' Club affair.

SPRING

TRACK

Despite the loss of many letter winners the Tiger scanty clads are showing up in fine style. Phil Roe has shown up well in the half mile; Bill Eldridge and Don Meyring are putting on a fine battle for the mile.

Last year's squad pulled down two places in the state meet with Bob Roe taking second in the broad jump and Morgan Bartlett rating fourth place in the low sticks. Bill Meyring finished just out of the money with a fifth in the mile. The Tigers copped a first in the distance medley at the Sedro-Woolley Relay Carnival. Although they got a slow start in the County, the winged men managed to tie for second in the district meet with sixteen points.

TENNIS

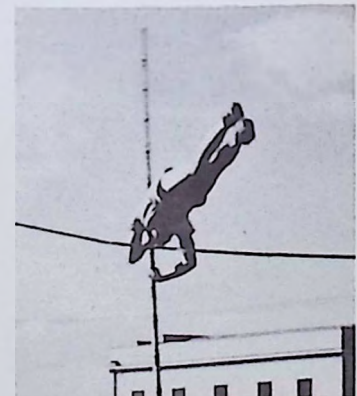

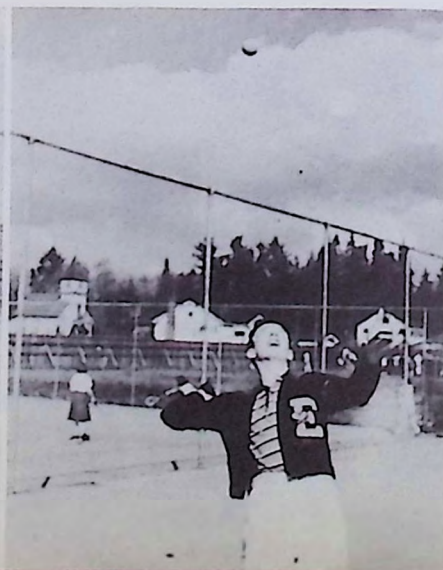

After a rather unsuccessful season last year in which few matches were won and only one place was taken in the County — fourth in the doubles event by Bartlett and Foard—things are looking up for the tennis team.

This season has seen the Tigers taking most of their encounters with Harry Kretzler, Eric Carlson, and Gordon Conrad playing singles. Jack Bartlett and Olyn Foard have given way in several matches to Dick Taylor and Arland Smith for first doubles, but last year's regulars look to be on the up grade.

SPORTS

BASEBALL

With a new coach, Warren Leaden, at the helm and the county championship on the trophy shelf, the men of the diamond are looking for more fields to conquer.

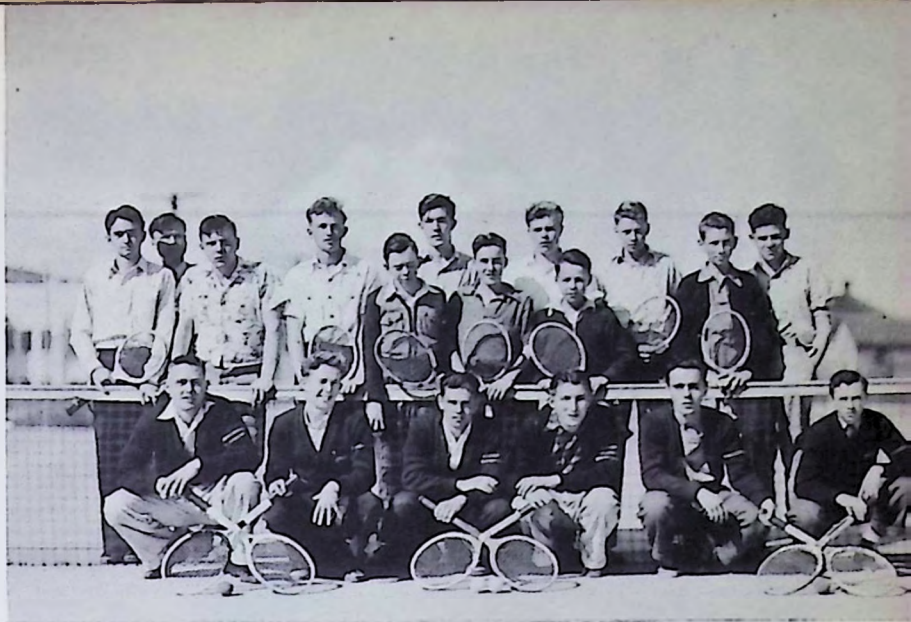

Going through last year's conference schedule without a defeat and winning all but three of their other games gave the Tigers their most successful season.

This year's squad has only six veterans but plenty of fight has made up for most of that. At the catcher's position is Bob Hewett with Johnny Johnson at first, Dick Paige at second; at shortstop, Jack Daly, and the third sack is covered by Captain Bill Birt.

In the outfield Frank Hoff, Jerry Grover, Ted Palmer with several others have looked good.

The pitching staff is led by Charlie Johnson with Frank Hoff and Johnny Johnson giving him plenty of support.

Others who look good are Don Day, Walt Ewing, Harold Bucklin, Ray Thorne, Ken Weiding, and Jack Thompson.

Girls'

This year Coach Fae Brechner was elected president of the Snohomish County Coach Association. It was by this appointment that Miss Brechner was able to introduce athletics on a competitive basis. This new system, to be carried out at sportsdays, provided that five teams or fewer be chosen from each school in the county and classified into A, B, and C groups according to ability.

Speedball, with a turnout of approximately 125 girls, started the athletic program for the year. Speedball sportsday was held at Edmonds and was the only one of the year to be run non-competitively.

Following speedball season the girls transferred from the field to the newly-completed gym where they took up volleyball.

Round robin playoffs characterized the basketball season, with Jean Paige's team coming out on top with no losses.

Early spring saw the girls leaving the gym to begin play on the baseball diamond. There was a turnout of 100 girls under Manager Dorothea Leichty. Baseball, track, and tennis were combined in one sportsday which took place at Monroe.

Orchids to Miss Fae Brechner for bringing the tumbling team to its present standard and for revising the girls athletics so that they are now more competitive and more interesting to both observers and players.

MANAGERS M. Smart, R. Mafune, D. Leichty.

Sports

A squad of eight girls was chosen from the tennis tournament held in the fall. This team pulled through a successful season.

At the beginning of the track season, each girl's record was tabulated as a trial, and at the end of the season her improvement was calculated in terms of points.

The tumbling team had a successful season, accounted for by Coach Brechner's untiring efforts towards its success and also the cooperation of the team members. Purple and gold suits were bought at the beginning of the season, with the understanding that they would remain with the succeeding team. Among the highlights of the tumbling season: their performance at the State Basketball Tournament and the A. A. U. at the University of Washington, and the appearance of the tumblers' pictures on a page in the brown section of the Seattle Times.

Ping pong proved to be quite popular with the girls as a minor sport. Mercedes Smart placed first in singles, and Betty Peterson and Marynel Thompson took the first doubles title.

Orchids to Teiko Mafune for making over one thousand points this year, and for being outstanding in leadership, sportsmanship and general athletic ability. Credit, too, for her well-organized year as the head of the Letterwomen.

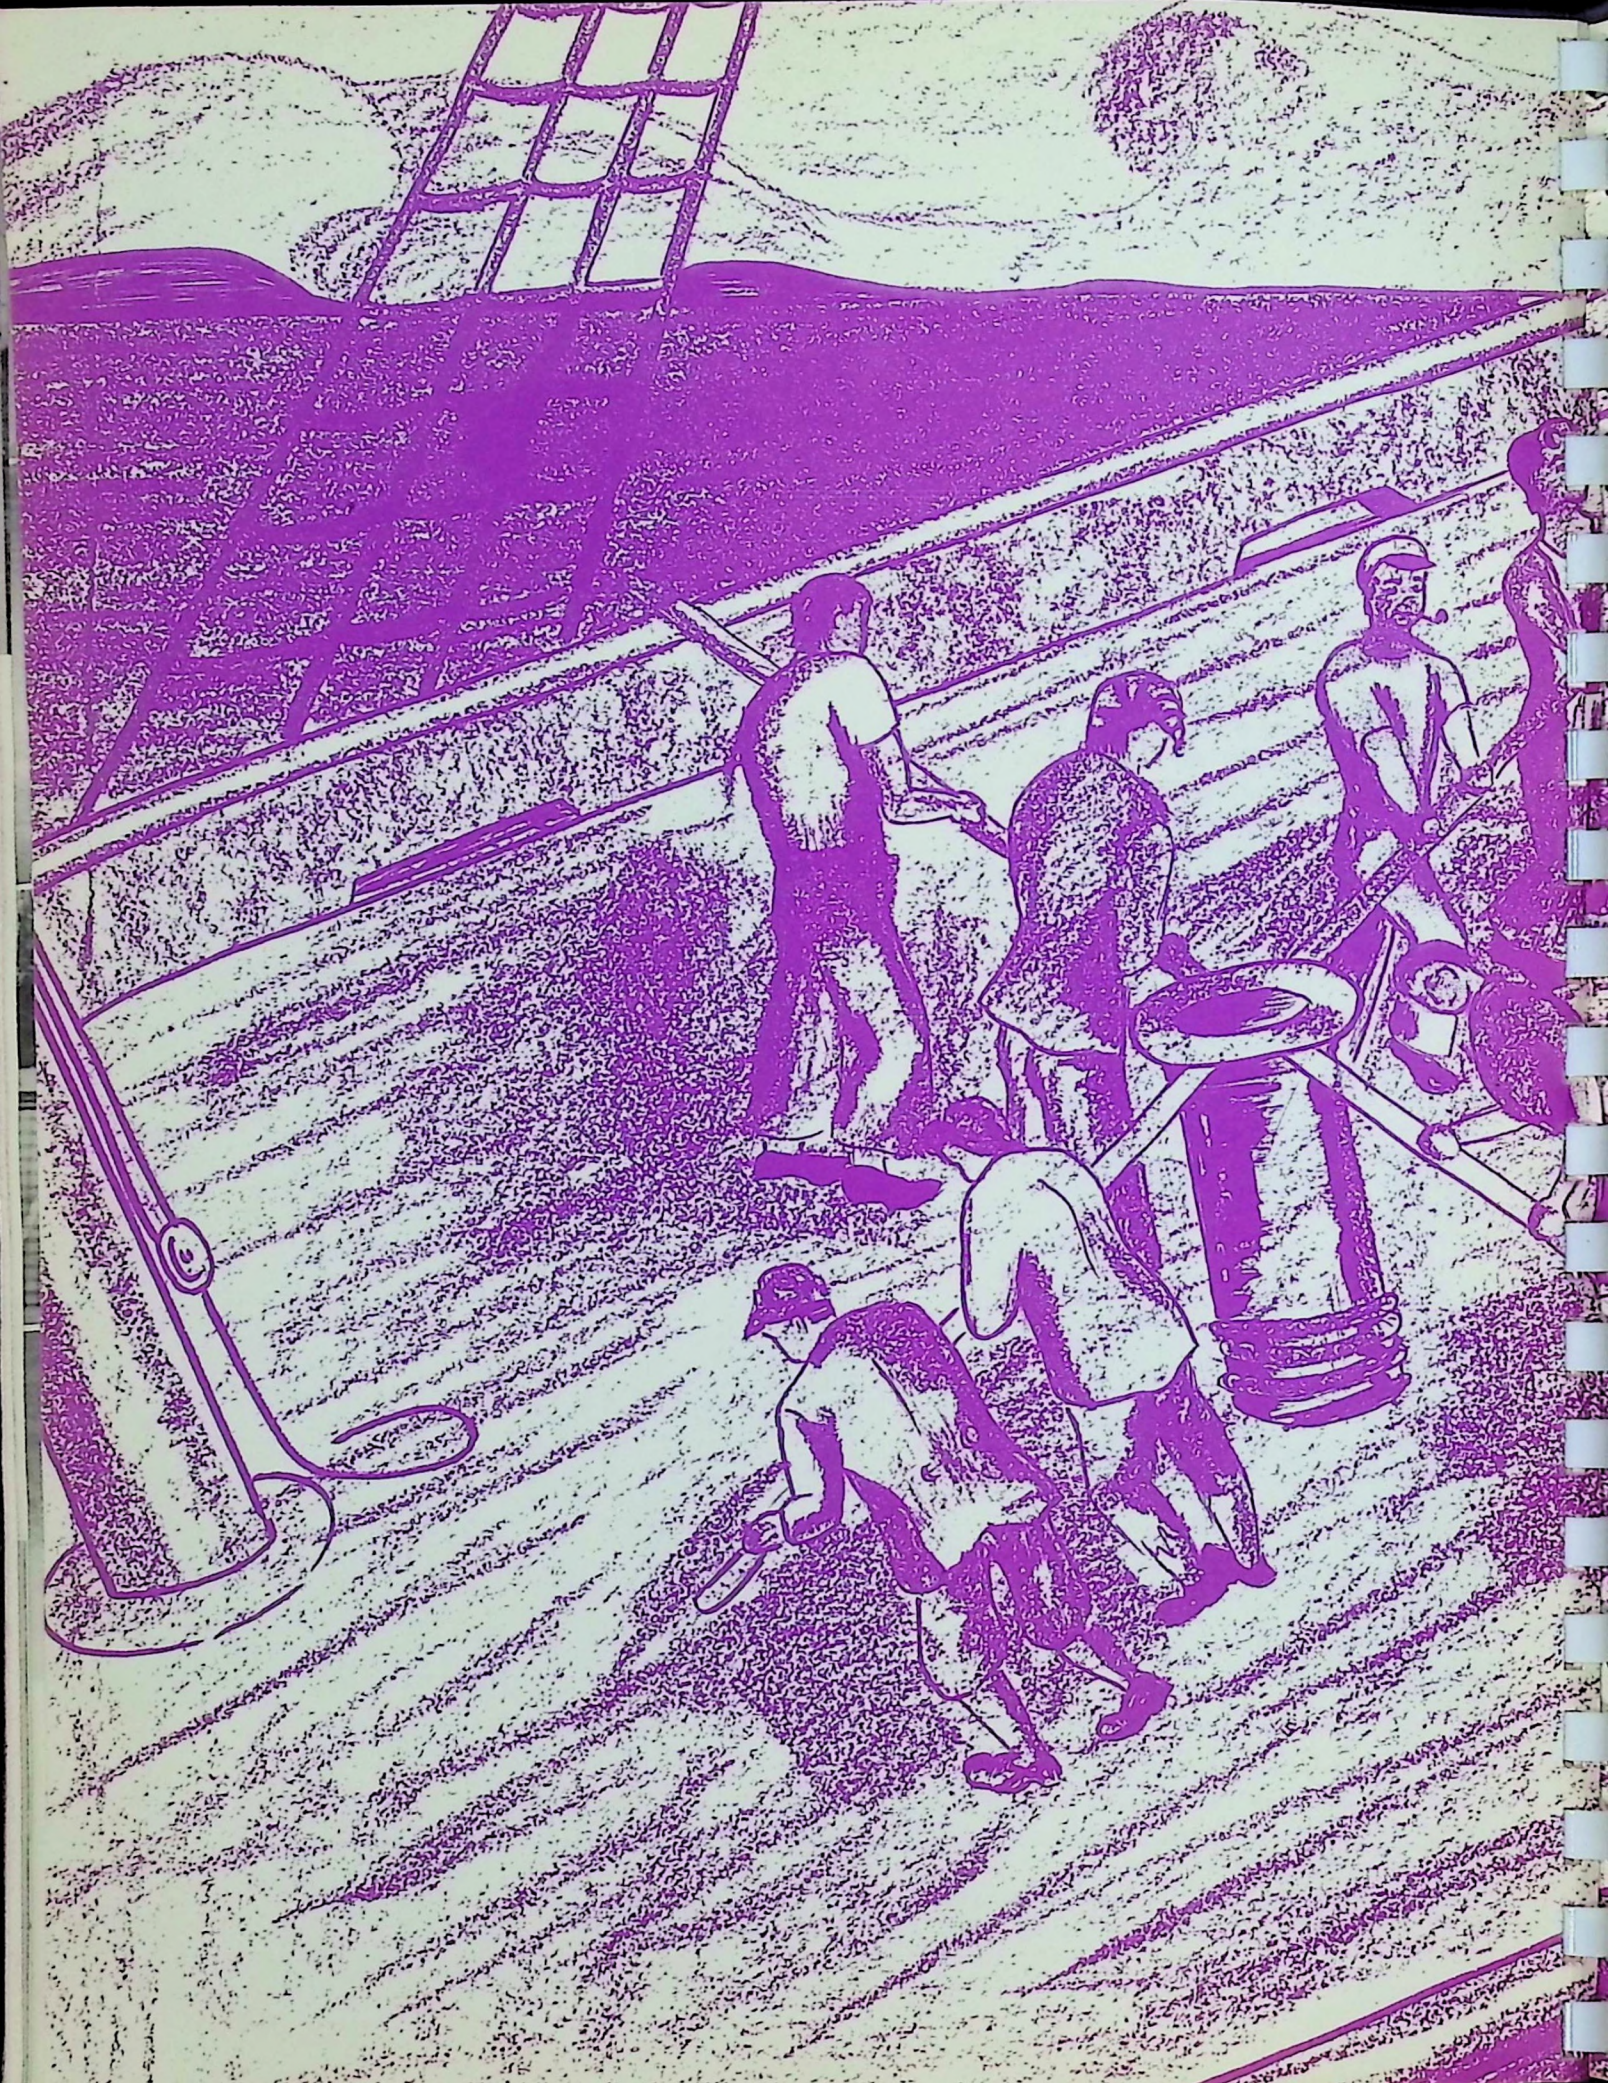

BASKETBALL CHAMPS: D. Gust, M. Brine, R. Boyle, C. Foard, J. Paige, M. Wilson.

A GAY WINTER RESORT where people from all over the world gather, was the setting of the all-school vodvil this year.

A one night show given on the evening of Friday, December 15, was the first public performance to be presented in the new high school auditorium.

Lois Hagan and Bob Storm, co-managers of the vodvil, were chosen by a committee consisting of faculty members. The vodvil was directed by Miss Eula Curry.

There was a large variety of acts presented, including various musical selections, skits by the different clubs of the school, and also some comedy acts.

"ROPE JUMP ARTISTS" are Ryoko Mafune, Helen Carlstedt, Ethvilda Webb, Ruth Boyle, Agnes Anderson, Teiko Mafune and Marilyn Brine.

CHORAL GROUPS

Under the direction of Miss Josephine Goodner, the three choral groups at Edmonds have proved to be very successful.

The Girls' Glee Club, composed of thirty members, sang at the spring concert, at the Mothers' Day Tea in May, and in the vodvil. Theresa Plunkett acted as accompanist.

Chorus, including twenty-five boys and girls the first semester numbered forty in the second term. This year the girls purchased uniform white sweaters. The chorus represented Edmonds at the Western Washington Music Contest held at Everett in April, the first time the chorus had been sent to the contest. They sang at the spring concert and in the vodvil.

In the latter part of the year a double trio of senior girls was organized to sing at a luncheon in Richmond Highlands and at Commencement. The girls included: Barbara Atkinson, Marie Arnold, Virginia Ryan, Pauline Horning, Sissel Almaas, and June Tutmark. Virginia Jennings accompanied both the chorus and the double trio.

THE GIRLS GLEE INCLUDES:

TOP ROW: Theresa Plunkett, Marianne Campbell, Gloria Halstead, Kathleen Ryan, Margaret Bench, Marilyn Cooper, Yvonne Engebretsen, Marguerite Milton.

SECOND ROW: Miss Goodner, Helen Lown, Sissel Almaas, June Tutmark, Lorraine Eloffson, Barbara Atkinson, Jessie Carol Hendron, Doris Ruth Davis, Marian Widger, Josephine Ray, Marjorie Wilson.

SECOND ROW: Miss Josephine Goodner, Vivian Womer, Margaret Stadler, Marion Gordon, Ida McClenahan, Mary O'Toole, Virginia Jennings, Marjorie Ryan, Virginia Ryan, Marie Arnold.

ORCHESTRA

Under the direction of Miss Fae Brechner the orchestra claimed many honors proving the success of an eventful year.

In the music meet held at North Junior high school in Everett the orchestra received a rating of excellent.

During the course of the year the group played for both the senior and junior class plays. Several selections were given in the vodvil. They also played at Open House.

In the music meet held at the College of Puget Sound Valerie Masson, violinist, received a rating of superior. Gloria Brown, piano, and George Cooper, violin, were awarded excellent scores. Janet Beeson, violin, received a third rating.

BAND

With W. H. Osborn as director, the Edmonds high school band experienced an active year.

The band played in the music meet at Everett held in the Everett high school auditorium. They contributed several musical selections at Open House, and the group also played at various assemblies held throughout the year.

A small pep band, which was made up of various members of the larger group, was organized. They played at several of the football and baseball games.

Bertha Schroeder, clarinet, and Tom Niederhauser, French horn, were accorded excellent rating in the music meet held at the College of Puget Sound.

Dear Mrs. Bliss,
you are one of the few teachers I have ever known that tried to help their pupils more cultured and encouraged them to become acquainted with the better things in life. I'm sure every one of your students is more thoughtful and considerate for having studied under you.

My dear Mrs. Bliss,
What patience it must take to be a successful teacher for so many years! Besides having "back-larin'" one must be a sympathetic listener to all sorts of childish problems, be an example to the whole community, & an unknown enemy to the half that doesn't seem fortunate enough to receive A's.

It's a great life if you don't weaken and you don't seem to have weakened one bit. There is a great reward in the love so many have for you & their hearts -

I have named this boat (on which I'm writing) Friendship - May ours always be seaworthy -
Love
Mary O. Fiske
